

Exhibit 5—Examples of Situations Potentially Considered Pre-Decisional or Deliberative

- A draft safety basis document provided by a contractor to the DOE field office
- Access for Resident Inspectors to a field office issues management database
- A fact-finding or fact-gathering meeting following an abnormal event
- A meeting where a work package for a maintenance activity is being developed
- An integrated project team meeting used to identify potential process hazards for a design and construction project
- Information that emerges during the response to an emergency